K. OGAWA, F.R.P.S.

THIS album contains the very same collection of photographic pictures, which the Tokyo Tei-koku Daigaku (the Imperial University of Tokyo) has sent to the International Exhibition at Paris, opening in April, 1900, and which the undersigned has had the honor of preparing for that purpose.

The collection consists of photographs of the principal buildings, museums, laboratories and several other important places, belonging to the University, as well as those of most of the University officers, including three former Presidents. It is, therefore, the best and most complete set of photographs ever produced of this kind, and may prove not only very interesting to the general public, but also useful to those interested in the University; for these reasons the undersigned has obtained special permission from the University to publish it.
